

Who is responsible for your data?

Our Privacy Notice applies to the personal data that Airbase UK Interiors collects and uses.

References in this Privacy Notice to “Airbase UK Interiors”, “we”, “us” or “our” means Airbase UK Interiors. We control the ways your personal data are collected and the purposes for which your personal data are used and are therefore the “data controller” for the purposes of the GDPR 2018, UK Data Protection Act 2018 and any other applicable European data protection legislation.

How and why we use your personal data

We may need to contact you by email, phone and/or SMS for administrative, customer service or operational reasons, please be aware that these communications are not made for marketing purposes and as such, you will continue to receive them even if you choose not to receive marketing communications. Examples of these include; changes to private classes or unplanned class cancellations.

To personalise and improve your customer experience

We may also collect information on how you use our website, which pages of our website you visit most and which classes you book, in order to understand what you like. We may use this information to tailor the content and offers that you see on our website and to send you relevant messages that we think you might like.

Security of your personal data

We are committed to taking appropriate technical and organisational measures to protect your personal data against unauthorised or unlawful processing and against accidental loss, destruction or damage to personal data.

Updates to this Privacy Notice

We may update this Privacy Notice to reflect changes to our information practices or in line with new legislation. We encourage you to periodically review the Privacy Notice on our website for the latest information on our privacy practices.